

Dear Friends,

The story is all too common...

- The racecar driver runs out of fuel with one lap to go.
- The golfer fails to sink a putt to clinch the championship.
- The highly favored sports team falls in defeat to a clearly inferior team.

These examples have one theme in common, they did not finish well! Finishing well takes discipline, endurance, and a laser-like focus on a goal. The reward for finishing well is the satisfaction of knowing you completed the task, you earned the prize, and you achieved the goal.

Last month 184 Johnson University graduates reversed that story. They finished well! They completed their course of study, earned their degree, and are prepared to join all of God's servants in fulfilling the Great Commission! In similar fashion to the Apostle Paul, they "fought the good fight... finished the race" (2 Timothy 4:7), at least the initial stage of the race.

By now you should have received information announcing the University's latest campaign, Breaking New Ground. A significant portion of this campaign will focus on the Royal Fund which supports the general operations of the University and assists us in keeping education affordable for our students. Students, like those who graduated in May, depend on the generosity of partners like you to keep tuition costs as low as possible.

Your generosity enables Johnson to finish the 2023-24 school year well!
