

On the Need For A Missions Bus

Question to Dale Meade on Facebook Messenger: Hi Dale, Is Hasten why your team needs the van? I brought it up in our church board meeting Wednesday and some thought it was just regular transportation on the rough roads around there. Please confirm for me. 😊😊

Dale Meade: Yes, for the Hasten teams, and for camp programs. The van is needed as we often hire public transportation at significant expense and often in poor condition. We do plan on getting one with a beefed up suspension for the rough roads, but that is not the reason we are hoping to buy one. It is the need for group transportation for larger groups, such as the health brigades and work crews, as well as camp events.

Dale Meade: We pay somewhere around $500 per day to hire public transportation and often the vans are in bad mechanical condition.

Dale Meade: On other times we use three or four private cars to make the trips. Today three vehicles hauled our people and equipment.
