Harvest of Talents

Nariku's husband passed away in 2012 leaving her as the sole breadwinner for her 5 children and 1 grandchild. Due to lack of formal employment and a drought that led to the loss of the few livestock they depended on, her children were forced to drop out of school because there was no way to pay school fees. This left Nariku and her family vulnerable. Through the Harvest program, the family received the food supplies they needed to restore their strength and have the energy to search for work. Their hope and faith in God has been renewed. Please pray that Nariku's family will receive the employment they need and be able to return to school.
