Dear friend,

It gives me so much joy to share the latest Giving Words newsletter with you. This summer edition is filled with good news — all made possible by YOU and your faithful giving!

Every story shows your commitment to share Scripture with people longing to experience God's Word in their own language.

You will read about Silas, who once believed God didn't even know his language. You'll also read about Alice, a refugee who loves her Kondulese Scripture so much she keeps giving her copies away. And you'll read about Simon, who carried decades of pain from war and captivity.

 These stories all point to the transforming power of God's Word — and to the life-changing difference you are making with your giving.

From the bottom of my heart, I thank you.

Whether you support a missionary or a project, thank you for all that you make possible through your generosity.

That All May Know Jesus,
