STORIES FROM THE FIELD

WITNESS. — PRAY. — BELIEVE.

Hi Friends at Pine Lake,

Around the world, God is at work in ways both seen and unseen. Through faithful men and women equipped for ministry, lives are being transformed, churches are being strengthened, and communities are encountering the hope of Christ. In each issue of Stories From the Field, we'll share a glimpse of what God is doing through TCM's global family. This month, we're celebrating the remarkable ways God is working in Liberia, where ordinary believers are faithfully advancing His Kingdom in extraordinary ways.

This Month's Story:Â

God is opening new doors for faithful leaders in Liberia. This year alone, at least five TCM students have stepped into influential roles within their schools, serving as directors, principals, deans, and even presidents. These promotions are more than career milestones; they are opportunities to shape the next generation through biblical leadership and disciple-making values.Â

Elsewhere in Liberia, another TCM student used his gifts as a translator to help lead a team in completing a Gio-language translation of the Bible for his local tribe. Through this work, people can encounter God's Word in the language they know and understand most deeply. His leadership is helping make Scripture more accessible to families, churches, and future generations.Â

A third student recognized the devastating cycle of drug addiction among young people in his community and founded a ministry to reach them. He helps youth take steps toward freedom while surrounding them with encouragement, accountability, and practical support. As they rebuild their lives, he continues walking alongside them, discipling them in the way of Jesus and pointing them toward lasting hope.
