Dear Pine Lake Christian Church,

Do you remember when you started partnering with LATM? What prompted you? What touched you? How was the Lord working in your life at that time? Whatever the reason, thank you for responding to God's leading and joining in on such a worthy kingdom venture. A venture that has helped many people worldwide learn about, come to believe in, and grow as a disciple of Jesus—all in their own language!

I was recently reminded of our partners in Southeast Asia, particularly those who speak the Lisu language. The history of the gospel there extends back to 1928. At that time, there was no gospel presence. Now, though, there are hundreds of thousands of Christians among the Lisu. Their church leaders and church members are writing and creating books to bless their people with greater depth of knowledge of God's Word and the Christian life. Over the past 30 years, 99 projects have been completed in Lisu—from commentaries to hymnals to doctrinal studies to children's Bible studies—equipping in the Lisu-speaking church, as they reach their people and other people groups nearby.

Thank you for being a part of the reason this has happened. God's faithfulness, coupled with your generosity and the tenacity of Lisu Christians, has made that possible. As always, let's keep bringing the books together so that people worldwide can find, follow, and serve Jesus—in their own language.

God bless you,

Commentaries on Luke and 1 Corinthians in Russian

October's Book Club selections are two more books from the College Press NIV Commentary series, translated into Russian. The two volumes ready to be printed in Moscow are Luke and 1 Corinthians.

You may remember that this spring, Book Club members gave for two other commentaries in this series. Thank you! However, the work continues, and LATM partner Konstantin is ready to print two more. He wrote that there is only one complete commentary series in Russian, and it lacks sufficient depth. He is excited to print these commentaries, as he believes that they are the right balance of depth and practicality, while being strongly grounded in Scripture.

You may also remember that these commentaries are being printed in the Ukrainian language in Ukraine. That team is also translating them into Russian but are not allowed to print the Russian language there (and so are offering them as e-books). And though the war between Russia and Ukraine rages on, our partners in both of these places are Kingdom-minded! One team in one country translates, while another team formats the book. By working together and sharing resources, God's Kingdom grows. This is what LATM is all about! Through seeking God's Kingdom and working in partnership, you too are a part of what God is doing around the world.
